

eGroup, Lori Sussman Named to 2015 CRN Women of the Channel Power 50

Mount Pleasant, SC, June 1, 2015 – eGroup, Technology Solutions for Serious Competitors, today announced that Lori Sussman, Vice President, Services has been named to The Channel Company's prestigious 2015 CRN® Women of the Channel, and has been recognized as one of this year's Power 50. The annual list honors outstanding female executives for their achievements and the far-reaching impact they are having on the technology industry going forward.

This year's Women of the Channel were carefully reviewed by the editors of CRN and selected based on their accomplishments and the influence they wield over the technology channel. The Power 50 spotlights an elite subset of Women of the Channel honorees whose insight and influence in their respective companies help drive channel success.

Lori is a 24-year US Army veteran who retired with the rank of Colonel. She commanded at every level through brigade and services in areas across the U.S., Asia and Europe. Lori serves at eGroup's VP, Services. In this role, Lori works closely to shape the vision, strategy and execution of eGroup's delivery team. Lori holds a Bachelor of Science Degree from the United States Military Academy, a Master of Science degree in Artificial Intelligence and Human Factors Engineering from the George Washington University, a Masters of Military Arts and Sciences from the School of Advanced Military Sciences at U.S. Army Command and General Staff College, and a Master of Science in National Security Studies from the National War College at the U.S. National Defense University.

"We applaud the exceptional contributions of the honorees in this year's Women of the Channel Power 50. These executives have made a lasting mark on the industry by helping to shape the channel's future," said Robert Faletra, CEO, The Channel Company. "We are privileged to celebrate their far-reaching influence, innovation and commitment to the IT channel community."

"In a short period of time, Lori has made a long-lasting impact on the outcomes we deliver for our clients," said Mike Carter, eGroup President and CEO. "Through her diverse experience and success, she's brought to market value-oriented, service-led offerings for cloud, software and technical services - driving growth and success for our clients, partners and company. I'm proud to join with the chorus of voices congratulating her on this well-deserved industry recognition."

The Women of the Channel, with expanded coverage of the Power 50, will be featured in the June issue of CRN, and online at www.CRN.com.

About eGroup

Headquartered in Mt. Pleasant, SC, eGroup provides innovative cloud, software, end-user computing and technical services to organizations across the Southeast. One of the region's fastest growing companies and four-time recipient of "Inc. 5000", eGroup's solutions drive customer revenue while reducing cost to maintain IT infrastructures. Visit www.eGroup-us.com or call 1.877.eGROUP.1 (1.877.347.6871) for more information.

About The Channel Company

The Channel Company, with established brands including CRN[®], XChange[®] Events, IPED[®] and SharedVue[®], is the channel community's trusted authority for growth and innovation. For more than three decades, we have leveraged our proven and leading-edge platforms to deliver prescriptive sales and marketing solutions for the technology channel. The Channel Company provides Communication, Recruitment, Engagement, Enablement, Demand Generation and Intelligence services to drive technology partnerships. Learn more at www.thechannelcompany.com.

Press Contacts:

Angie Murto
eGroup
843.531.6646
Angie.Murto@eGroup-us.com

Marc Courchesne
The Channel Company
508.416.1110
mcourchesne@thechannelcompany.com

###